FOR ECONOMIC ADVANCEMENT

Good morning Lindsay,

We are writing to invite your participation in an upcoming site visit for Jobs for the Future's (JFF), Lumina Foundation's and the Joyce Foundation's Congressional Staff Network on Economic Advancement. This visit will take place in Memphis, Tennessee from Thursday, February 21st – Friday, February 22nd, 2019. Participants will fly from DC to Memphis on the morning of February 21st, participate in meetings and site visits throughout the two days, and then fly back to DC in the late afternoon of February 22nd.

In Memphis, staff will learn about how the region is reinventing its workforce and postsecondary education systems to address the needs of its high demand industry sectors. We will hear about how Memphis is creating pathway opportunities, starting in high school, in these high demand fields of study. We will also learn about how the region is addressing reintegration and poverty alleviation through pathways approaches in SNAP, WIOA Youth and other programs – to ensure equal opportunities for disadvantaged populations.

Memphis provides a very interesting example for staff to see about how federal funding has been used to rethink and reform a region's education and workforce development efforts -- to ensure they are responsive to the skill needs of leading employers. Staff will hear from the Greater Memphis Alliance for a Competitive Workforce (GMAC), a workforce intermediary, about its work to deepen stakeholder connections and build strong college and career pathways with help from federal TAACCCT and America Promise grants. We will hear from leading employers, in transportation/logistics, medical device manufacturing, and healthcare about how they have engaged the community to ensure that education and training efforts in the region are meeting their changing needs. We will talk with education and workforce system providers about the changes they are making to ensure the relevance of training efforts. And we will hear from state initiatives including TN Promise, Pathways Tennessee and Tennessee Reconnect to learn how they are working in Memphis and Shelby County.

In the next week, we will send more information regarding the trip, including a final agenda and the necessary Ethics documentation. We hope you can join us!

Mary Clagett
